ACRES OF LAND

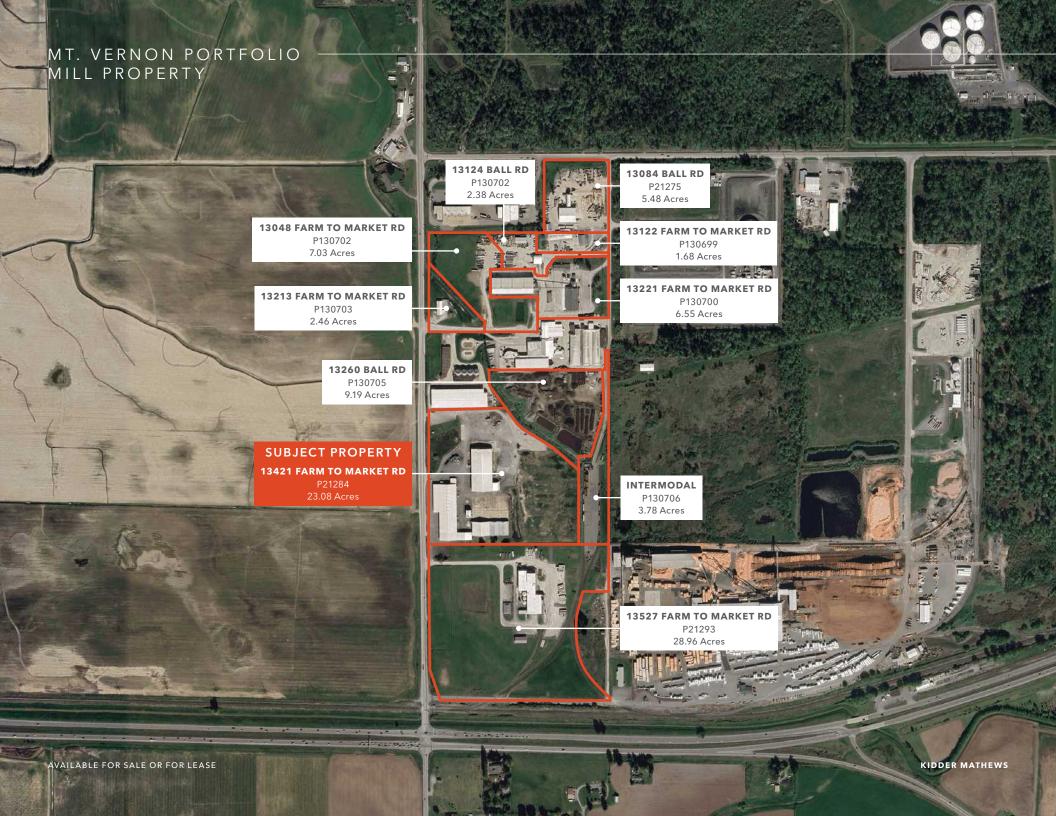

Located in Skagit County's Bayview Ridge area, the property offers a rare opportunity for industrial development. The site is zoned Bayview Ridge Heavy Industrial (BR-HI), a designation that covers less than 0.1% of Skagit County's land. Formerly occupied by Northwest Hardwoods, the property is ideally suited for mill operations and other heavy industrial uses.

The property features three large storage buildings and a freestanding office building, providing ample space for various industrial needs. The eastern portion of the site, previously used for log storage, presents an excellent opportunity for conversion to industrial outdoor storage.

A BNSF intermodal transfer station is located to the east of the property. It provides an opportunity to extend a railroad spur from the adjacent parcel to the south, significantly enhancing the site's logistical capabilities. Contact brokers for additional details.
