LOCATION OVERVIEW

Located in northwest Seattle, Ballard is a neighborhood with a strong Scandinavian heritage. The neighborhood has a diverse mix of residents, including families, young professionals, and retirees. The area has undergone significant redevelopment in recent years and offers excellent walkability and bike-friendliness. Also nearby is a Golden Gardens Park, which offers beach access and stunning views of the Puget Sound and Olympic Mountains.

It is also well-connected to other parts of Seattle via public transportation, including bus and light rail. The area's strong sense of community, rich history, and access to outdoor attractions make it a popular destination for residents and visitors alike.

Overall, Ballard is a vibrant and diverse neighborhood that has something to offer for everyone.

Ballard's proximity to the Ballard Locks and the waterfront has led to the expansion of recreational and tourism-related businesses. The neighborhood attracts visitors with its scenic views, vibrant marketplaces, and a thriving craft beer scene. As a result, there has been a surge in the number of breweries, distilleries, and specialty shops catering to tourists and locals alike.

MARKET OVERVIEW

Ballard has been an industrial center for more than 100 years. Famous for commercial fishing operations and related businesses, it is conveniently located near the Ballard Locks that vessels of many sizes pass through daily. The commercial district in Ballard is bustling with numerous restaurants, bars, shops, and art galleries. The Ballard Farmers Market is one of the largest and most popular in Seattle, and is open year-round every Sunday.

Ballard is a mid-sized sub-market with ~2.8 million SF of industrial space. Over the last 12 months, rental rates have grown 7% which is slightly above the average annual rate of 6.8%.

The area is centrally located with easy access to Hwy 99, I-5, Fishermen's Terminal, Shilshole Bay, and minutes from downtown Seattle.

NEW ZONING

The City of Seattle voted to rezone the property to a new zoning designation called the "Industry and Innovation zone." This zone aims to promote new development in multi-story buildings that can accommodate industrial businesses along with other dense employment uses like research, design, office, and technology. By offering density bonuses for employment uses, such as office and R&D, in conjunction with industrial uses within the same project, this modern industrial development would facilitate high-density employment near transit stations and existing industrial-commercial areas. Under this new zoning, buildings could potentially reach heights of up to 240 ft or have a floor area ratio (FAR) of up to 6.5, subject to specific incentive programs.

FAR limits Proposed Industry and Innovation (II) Zones

Zone	Minumum Industrial Use FAR	Maximum FAR with Tier 1	Maximum FAR with Tier 2
