THE OFFERING

REIMAGINED RETAIL HUB - OLD TOWN VILLAGE

Old Town Bellingham is currently undergoing a significant transformation, positioning the district as a premier mixed-use destination and emerging center of retail activity. This evolution is being catalyzed by the delivery of an 84-unit multifamily development in Summer 2026, followed by an additional 118 residential units scheduled for completion in Winter 2027. Together, these projects will meaningfully expand the area's residential density and support sustained growth in local commerce.

OLD TOWN VILLAGE

OLD TOWN VILLAGE

As one of Bellingham's seven designated urban villages, Old Town plays a critical role in advancing the communities housing needs and climate objectives. Although urban villages represent less than four percent of the City's total land area, they are planned to absorb roughly 30 percent of anticipated future growth, concentrating development in walkable, mixed-use neighborhoods.

Over the next decade, the Old Town District will see significant reinvestment, with multiple private projects planned across eight city blocks. These developments are projected to introduce approximately 500 new residential units, along with additional commercial space.
