LAKE CITY

THE NEIGHBORHOOD

LAKE CITY is a district in the northeast region of Seattle that comprises several smaller neighborhoods: Victory Heights, Meadowbrook, Matthews Beach, Cedar Park, and Olympic Hills. Lake City is bordered on the north by Lake Forest Park, on the east by Lake Washington, on the south by Wedgwood and View Ridge, and on the west by Northgate.

The area is known for its many used car sale lots, but has much more to offer than just a deal on an automobile. The main street, Lake City Way, is home to diverse dining options and businesses. And there are lots of parks for the outdoor-minded, including Matthews Beach, which has the largest freshwater swimming beach in the city. Housing-wise, you'll find newly built condos and apartments mixed with single-family homes. Compared to other neighborhoods in Seattle, Lake City has relatively low housing costs. This makes it a great choice for those looking to buy or rent a home without breaking the bank. There are a variety of housing options available in Lake City, including apartments, townhouses, and single-family homes. This ensures that there is something for everyone in terms of housing options.

Lake City has a vibrant and welcoming community that makes it a great place to live. The neighborhood has a strong sense of community, with many residents participating in local events and activities. This creates a friendly and inclusive environment where residents can feel at home. Additionally, Lake City has several community organizations, such as the Lake City Neighborhood Alliance and the Lake City Chamber of Commerce. These organizations work to improve the neighborhood and bring residents together.

Finally, Lake City's growing business district is another benefit for its residents. Over the past few years, the neighborhood has seen an increase in new businesses, including restaurants, cafes, and shops. This has helped to create a vibrant and dynamic business district that provides residents with plenty of options for shopping and dining. Additionally, the growth of the business district has helped to create new job opportunities for residents.

Lake City's location is another benefit for its residents. The neighborhood is located in the northeast part of Seattle, making it easily accessible from other parts of the city. Additionally, Lake City is located near several major highways, including I-5 and Highway 522. This makes it easy for residents to commute to work or travel to other parts of the city.

ZONING OVERVIEW

NEIGHBORHOOD COMMERCIAL | N3C-55(M)

Larger pedestrian-oriented shopping districts that provide a wide range of goods and services to the surrounding neighborhood and a larger community or region. Compatible uses include housing, offices, and business support services. Characterized by intense pedestrian activity, varied business and lot sizes, and good transit service

Typical Land Uses

Supermarkets, restaurants, offices, hotels, clothing shops, business support services, and residences that are compatible with the area's mixed-use character.

Building Types

Single purpose commercial structures, office buildings, multi-story mixed-use and residential structures. Nonresidential uses typically occupy the street frontage.

Street-level Uses

No limit on mix of residential and non-residential uses, except where P zones or other mapped areas limit residential presence at street level.

Street-level Non-residential Design

Transparency is required along 60% of a street-facing facade between 2-8' above the sidewalk. Non-residential uses greater than 600 square feet (sf) at street level must have an average depth of 30' and a minimum depth of 15', and have a minimum height of 13'.

Street-level Residential Design

Same as NC1 zone. Residential uses must contain at least one visually prominent pedestrian entry. Dwelling units must be at least 4' above or 4' below sidewalk grade, or 10' back from a sidewalk, with some exceptions.

Maximum Size of Commercial Use

No size limits for most uses; 25,000 sf for wholesaling, light manufacturing and warehouse uses

Parking Location

Parking must be located at the rear or side of a building, within a structure, or off-site within 800'. Parking between a building and a street is not allowed. Parking to the side of a building is limited to 60' of street frontage. Within a structure, street-level parking must be separated from the facade by another permitted use.

Parking Access

When a development contains a residential use, includes a P designation, or is across a street from a residential zone, it must meet NC1 zone standards.
