UNIVERSITY DISTRICT

NEIGHBORHOOD OVERVIEW

THE U DISTRICT, surrounding the University of Washington, is an eclectic mix of urban shopping areas; historic homes and architecture; and great cafes, pubs, restaurants, and theaters. The “U District” has a youthful and relaxed feel with lots of dining and shopping deals to take advantage of.

Much of the charm of the U District can be found in simply strolling the area of the University of Washington's gorgeous grounds which include historic buildings, gardens, sprawling green space. In spring, the iconic blossoming cherry trees in the UW Quad has been a destination for onlookers from around the world. “The Ave,” (University Way) is a popular gathering place with many eateries and funky shops. On 17th Avenue NE, a tree-lined lane known as Greek Row, passerby's can admire the stately mansions that house UW's fraternities and sororities.

The University of Washington Seattle campus is situated on the shores of Union and Portage Bays, with views of the Cascade Range to the east and the Olympic Mountains to the west. Those looking for outdoor pursuits will feel right at home among the students who can often be found kayaking on Lake Union or Portage Bay, biking the Burke Gilman trail or catching a football game at Husky Stadium, known for its unique tailgating parties, called “sailgating” as some arrive by yacht rather than by car.

The University of Washington, founded in 1861, is a public, comprehensive institution. UW has earned an international reputation for its research in such fields as Asian languages and literature, cell biology, computer science, forestry, international studies, nursing and physics. Its 703-acre campus, graced by Collegiate Gothic architecture, meandering paths and immaculately landscaped grounds, is located in a residential section of Seattle five miles from downtown.

THE NORTHGATE LINK EXTENSION adds three new stations in Seattle, two underground (U District and Roosevelt stations) and an elevated station at Northgate, which will feature frequent bus connections, a park-and-ride and a bicycle/pedestrian bridge to North Seattle College.
