HIGHLIGHTS

- Strategic Downtown Location: Situated in vibrant downtown Boise, offering excellent access to local amenities, business districts, and entertainment.
- MX-5 Zoning: Flexible zoning allows for a wide range of commercial, residential, or mixed-use redevelopment options, including the ability to build up to at least four stories in height.
- Current Configuration: 44 well-maintained hotel rooms provide immediate income potential or transitional use during planning and redevelopment phases.
- Separate Leased Restaurant: The property includes a fully operational restaurant with an existing lease, generating additional income.
- Exceptional Redevelopment Potential: Take advantage of the zoning and location to create a new, high-density development in one of Boise's most desirable neighborhoods.
- Prime site for mixed-use, multifamily, hotel, or commercial development
- Income streams in place to offset holding costs during entitlement and planning
- Strong demand in Boise's downtown corridor for new residential and commercial space
- Easy access to major transportation routes, retail, dining, and cultural attractions

“From 2015 to 2020, the population of Meridian, Idaho grew by more than 31% — a top-three rate in our study. Meridian also ranks ninth for both its August 2021 unemployment rate (2.5%) and five-year change in number of housing units (27.52%)”... “Businesses in Nampa, Idaho are booming. Census Bureau data shows that between 2014 and 2019 the total number of establishments in Nampa grew by close to 29%, the highest rate in our top 10 boomtowns and second-highest overall. Nampa also ranks in the top 5% of cities for two additional metrics: five-year population change and average yearly GDP growth. From 2015 to 2020, the population grew by 15.20% and the average yearly growth in total output for the three-year period from 2016 to 2019 is 6.27%.”

Boise rents have increased by 19.36% over the past year and 38.21% over the past three years. The vacancy rate for all rental properties in Boise is 1.67%, up from 1.40% one year ago...Real estate price jumps, low supply, rising household formations, and the flood of pandemic-related population growth have created a perfect storm. There just is not enough housing to meet Boise's demand, and as a result, rental rates are breaking records every quarter, and vacancies remain near recorded lows. This was vividly clear at the start of 2021—the first quarter saw Boise rental market vacancies reach an all-time record of 0.75%. As Q4 came to a close, its 1.64% vacancy rate indicated much of the same experience for renters going into the new year. Demand continues to dwarf available supply.”

Boise ranked higher than 90% of the country for job and high-tech GDP growth and reported some of the lowest unemployment and property crime rates for the metro areas on this list. Those promising statistics along with the city's population boom over the last couple of decades make it easy to see why Boise's in the top 1% of the country for 1-year home appreciation. In the past 12 months, home values in the area have increased 45%.”
