MEADOWBROOK DEVELOPMENT SITE

This exceptional Meadowbrook Development Site comprises three parcels on the east side of Lake City Way NE, totaling approximately 43,957 square feet, zoned NC3-55 (M).

NC3-55 (M) zoning delivers outstanding development flexibility with a 55-foot height limit (enabling efficient 5-story mixed-use structures) and 3.75 base FAR (~164,839 sq ft allowable) (Buyer to Verify), positioning the site for significant value creation through townhomes, rowhouses, apartments, ground-floor retail/commercial, or storage facility, construction yard, and many other uses.

This highly visible, high-traffic corner location commands strong exposure along a major arterial, while also immediately adjacent to Meadowbrook Playfield and Community Center—prime recreational amenities that drive residential demand and premium pricing. Preliminary analysis supports ~40 townhomes with covered parking or 200+ multifamily units in a mixed-use format. Sweeping eastern views over the playfield, Lake Washington, and the Cascade Mountains provide a rare competitive edge, enhancing marketability and resident appeal in one of North Seattle's most desirable neighborhoods. Proximity to operational Northgate light rail, I-5, and everyday conveniences further solidify long-term investment potential and absorption strength.

DEVELOPMENT POTENTIAL

- Over 1-acre, rectangular, vacant land
- Surveyed/topographic info available (eastern drop ~20' ideal for terraced design maximizing views)
- Frequent Transit Area Zone
- Meadowbrook amenities + views position this as a premier infill site—ideal for developers seeking high-yield opportunities in a proven growth corridor
- NC3-55 (M): 55 ft. Height
- Strong Market: Lake City townhomes currently list/sell ~$500,000–$700,000
- Preliminary Capacity: ~40 townhomes or 200+ multifamily (mixed-use, Buyer to Verify)
- Likely reduced/no minimum parking in frequent transit area (Buyer to Verify)
- High visibility development site

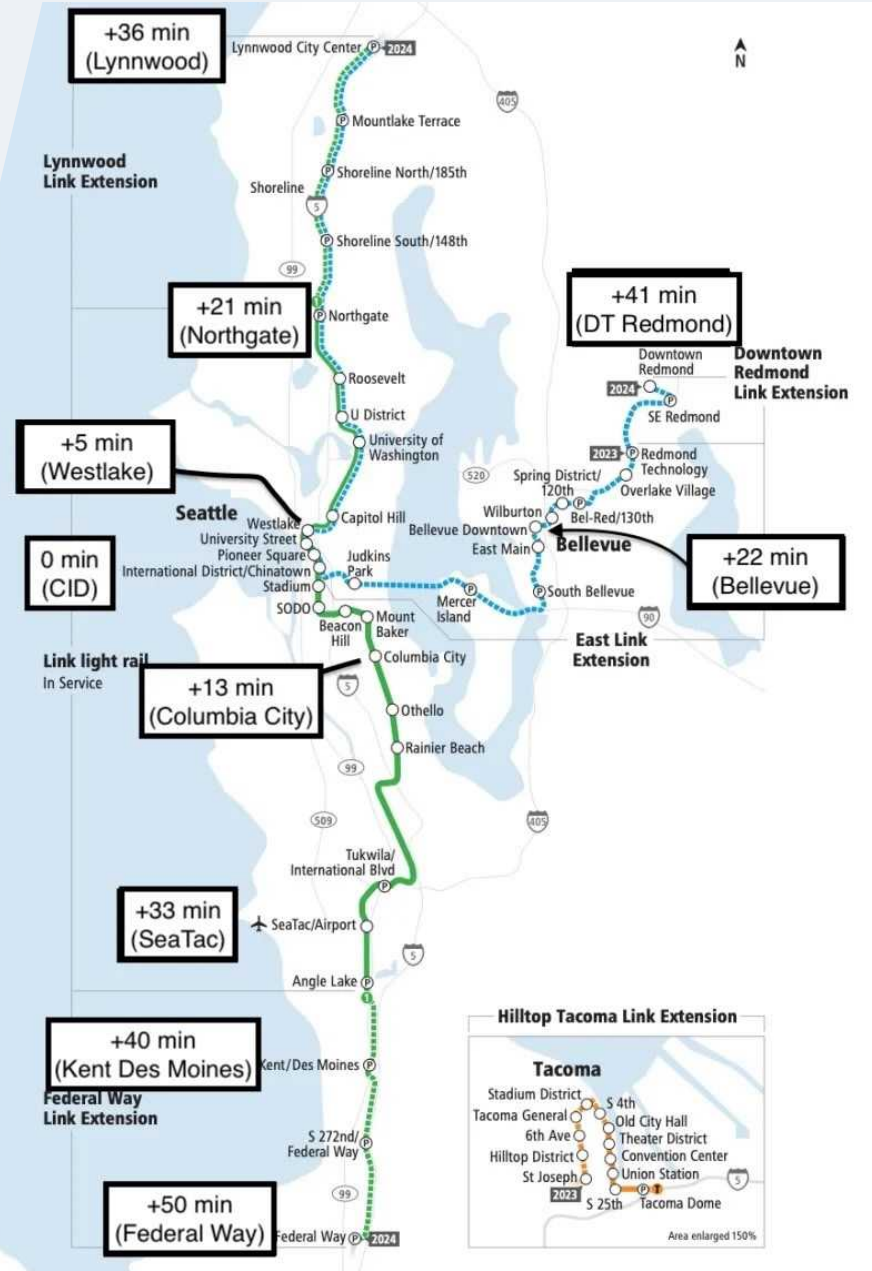

LOCATION HIGHLIGHTS

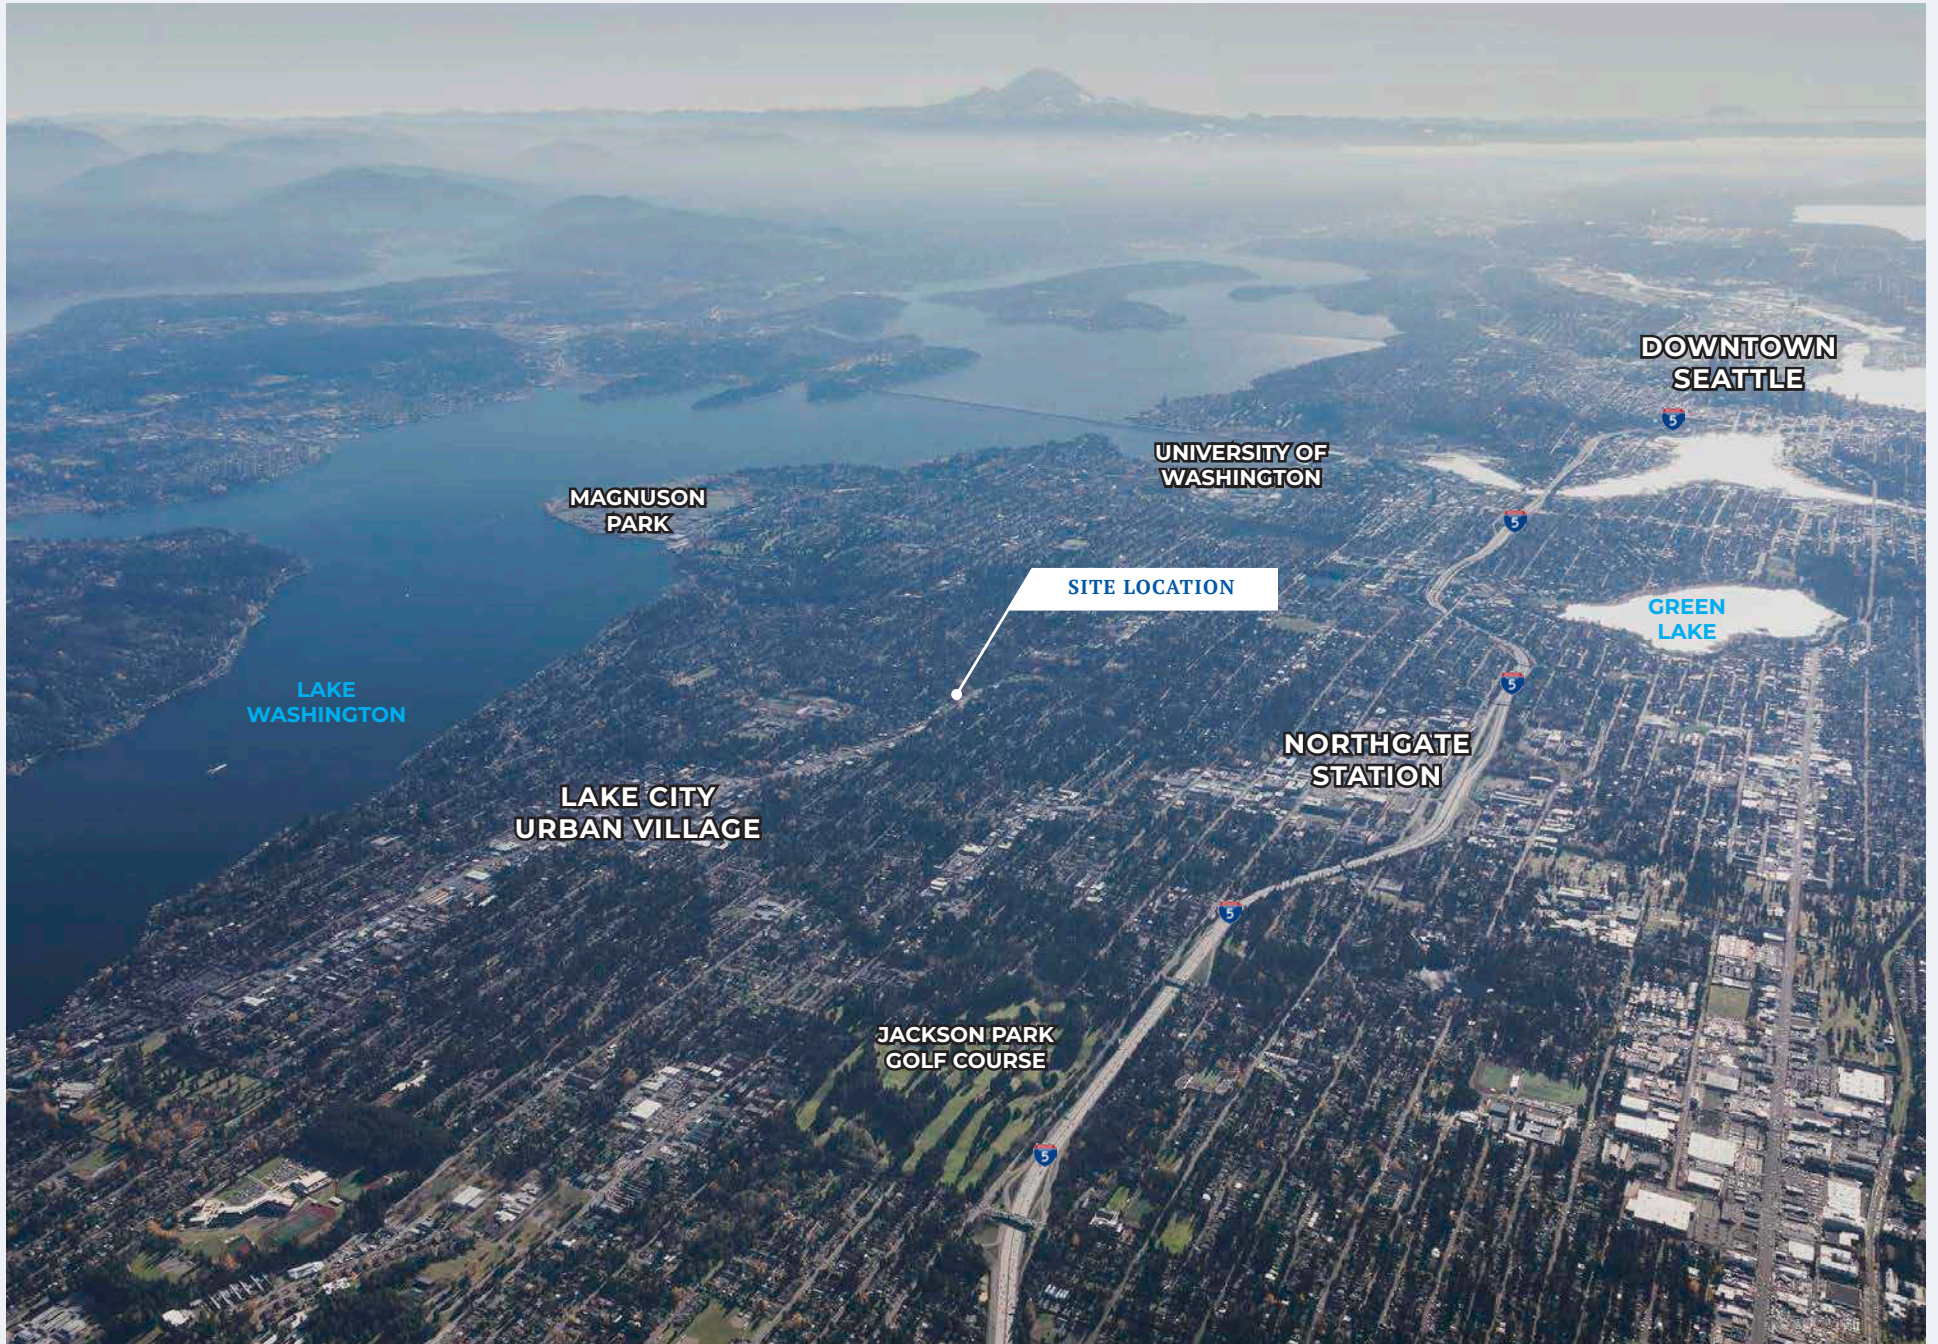

- ~1.4 miles / 6 minutes to Northgate Station (1 Line, operational 2021)—frequent service to downtown (~15-20 min), UW, Sea-Tac, and regional lines
- Expanded 1 Line via Lynnwood Link (opened 2024) drives connectivity and ridership growth
- 8 miles to downtown Seattle by car/bus; direct I-5 access
- ~3.1 miles to University of Washington
- Frequent Metro routes along Lake City Way NE
- Nearby: Starbucks, LA Fitness, Bank of America, Bartell Drugs, Dick’s Drive-In, etc.
- Immediately adjacent to Meadowbrook Playfield & Community Center (sports fields, playgrounds, rec facilities)—major livability asset for residential demand

TRANSIT ACCESS

- Northgate Link (opened 2021): Connects Northgate to downtown, UW, Capitol Hill, Sea-Tac
- Lynnwood Link (opened 2024): Northern extension; continued ridership records post-2024/2025
- Frequent 1 Line service; upcoming infill stations enhance access
- Commute: ~15–20 min to downtown from Northgate; trains every 4–8 min peak

LAKE CITY

LAKE CITY is a district in the northeast region of Seattle that comprises several smaller neighborhoods: Victory Heights, Meadowbrook, Matthews Beach, Cedar Park, and Olympic Hills. Lake City is bordered on the north by Lake Forest Park, on the east by Lake Washington, on the south by Wedgwood and View Ridge, and on the west by Northgate.

The area is known for its many used car sale lots, but has much more to offer than just a deal on an automobile. The main street, Lake City Way, is home to diverse dining options and businesses. And there are lots of parks for the outdoor-minded, including Matthews Beach, which has the largest freshwater swimming beach in the city. Housing-wise, you'll find newly built condos and apartments mixed with single-family homes. Compared to other neighborhoods in Seattle, Lake City has relatively low housing costs. This makes it a great choice for those looking to buy or rent a home without breaking the bank. There are a variety of housing options available in Lake City, including apartments, townhouses, and single-family homes. This ensures that there is something for everyone in terms of housing options.

Lake City has a vibrant and welcoming community that makes it a great place to live. The neighborhood has a strong sense of community, with many residents participating in local events and activities. This creates a friendly and inclusive environment where residents can feel at home. Additionally, Lake City has several community organizations, such as the Lake City Neighborhood Alliance and the Lake City Chamber of Commerce. These organizations work to improve the neighborhood and bring residents together.

Finally, Lake City's growing business district is another benefit for its residents. Over the past few years, the neighborhood has seen an increase in new businesses, including restaurants, cafes, and shops. This has helped to create a vibrant and dynamic business district that provides residents with plenty of options for shopping and dining. Additionally, the growth of the business district has helped to create new job opportunities for residents.

Lake City's location is another benefit for its residents. The neighborhood is located in the northeast part of Seattle, making it easily accessible from other parts of the city. Additionally, Lake City is located near several major highways, including I-5 and Highway 522. This makes it easy for residents to commute to work or travel to other parts of the city.

GREATER SEATTLE

Greater Seattle’s job market is anchored by a deep, diversified base of global employers spanning technology, aerospace, healthcare, logistics, and retail.

The metro supports a high concentration of professional and technical roles, driving above-average wages and durable housing demand. Employment is distributed across multiple job centers - including Seattle, Bellevue, Redmond, and Everett - reducing reliance on a single core and strengthening regional economic resilience.

This concentration of major employers continue to attract skilled workers and reinforces Seattle’s long-term position as a stable, high-income employment market.
