BUSINESS OVERVIEW

Located on Colby Avenue — the main spine of historic downtown Everett — The Irishmen is a well-known neighborhood pub inspired by the authentic pubs of Ireland.

The establishment offers a welcoming, casual environment where guests gather to enjoy a pint of Harp Lager, watch international football matches on multiple screens, and experience a true community gathering place in the heart of the city.

The interior atmosphere is intentionally warm and traditional. Rich wood floors, solid wood tables and booths, and classic pub furniture create an inviting setting complemented by Guinness memorabilia, stained-glass accents, and a cozy electric fireplace. The bar features a strong selection of Irish whiskey and beer, reinforcing the authentic pub experience.

The kitchen focuses on traditional Irish pub fare, including favorites such as shepherd's pie, bangers and mash, and fish and chips, with recipes inspired by the owner's upbringing in Belfast. Live traditional Irish music sessions have historically been a hallmark of the venue, often bringing together groups of local musicians for informal performances that enhance the lively, communal atmosphere.

Together, the authentic concept, warm interior character, and established local following position The Irishmen as a recognizable and enduring gathering place within Everett's growing downtown dining and nightlife scene.

NEIGHBORHOOD OVERVIEW

Located in downtown Everett's historic Bayside district, The Irishmen benefits from a central position along Colby Avenue, the city's primary downtown corridor. The street is defined by early-20th-century brick architecture and character-rich storefronts that now house a growing mix of independent restaurants, coffee shops, cocktail lounges, and neighborhood businesses. Nearby establishments such as The Historic Downtown Everett Theater and The Colby Club contribute to an increasingly active dining and nightlife environment within a short walk.

The surrounding neighborhood sits just above the Everett waterfront along Possession Sound and combines historic residential character with new residential growth. Early-1900s homes, classic apartment buildings, and newer mid-rise developments create a diverse housing base that continues to add residents within walking distance of downtown amenities.

Over the past decade, downtown Everett has been steadily evolving with new housing, independent restaurants, and a growing calendar of community events centered around Colby Avenue. Farmers markets, festivals, and street events regularly activate the corridor, reinforcing its role as the city's social and commercial hub.

Within this revitalizing district, The Irishmen has become a long-standing neighborhood gathering place and a recognizable anchor in Everett's emerging downtown dining and nightlife scene.
