INVESTMENT HIGHLIGHTS

UNIQUE OPPORTUNITY WITH MULTIPLE EXIT STRATEGIES

The property's two structures sit on one 13,350 SF lot, creating a potential opportunity to subdivide off the single-family home and sell it separately, reducing your basis in the remaining 7-unit apartment building - or continue to cash flow and improve NOI until future redevelopment.

1988 CONSTRUCTION WITH SPACIOUS UNIT LAYOUTS

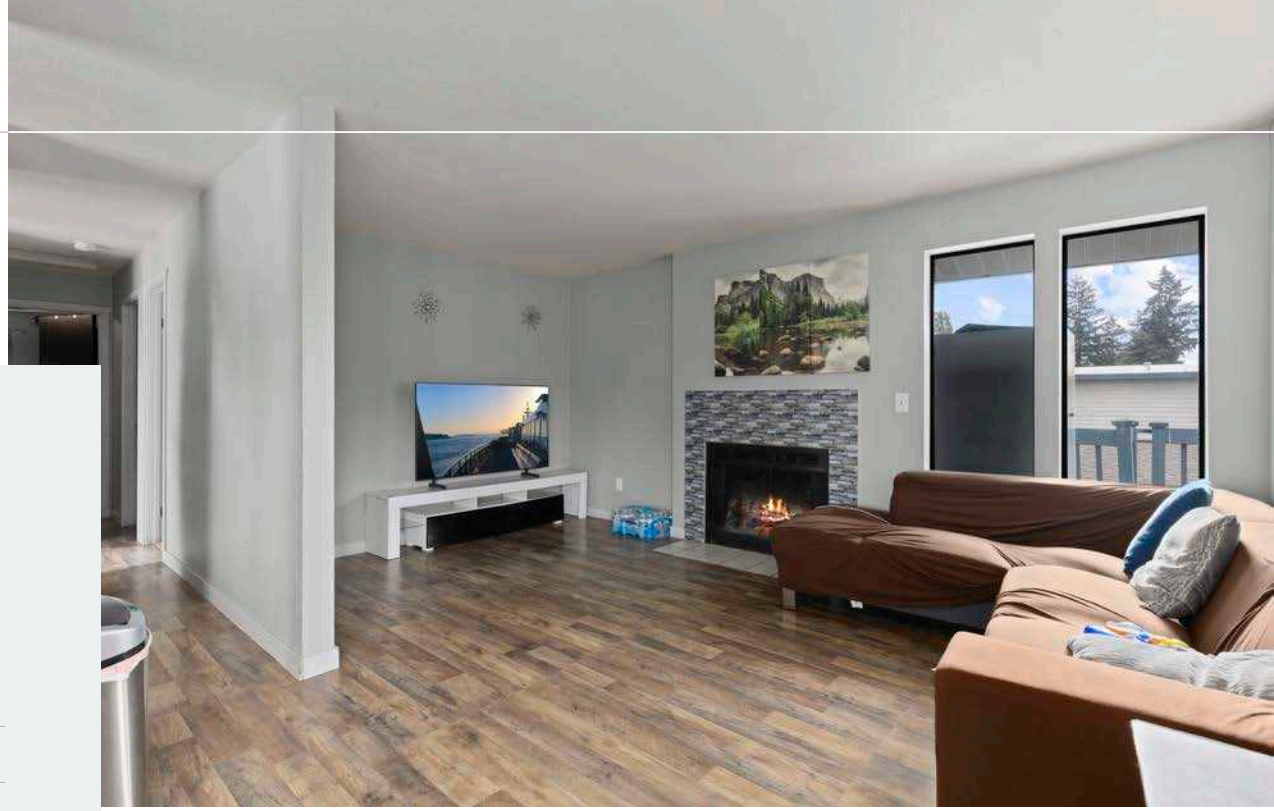

Built in 1988, the property is newer than most recent Burien comps, giving it an edge in construction quality and system life. The unit mix leans toward spacious 2-bed layouts (mostly 750-975 SF) plus a 1,000 SF single-family rental in a market that favors larger units.

STRONG IN-PLACE YIELD WITH OPERATIONAL UPSIDE

Castlemonte delivers a proven 7.7% cap rate, allowing the opportunity for positive leverage. Through moving rents to the proven high watermark at the property, and capturing other income, an 8.8% market cap rate should be achievable.

IN-DEMAND LOCATION NEAR MULTIPLE EMPLOYMENT HUBS

Castlemonte is located in close proximity to all of the major employment centers in King County. Residents have a short commute to downtown Seattle, Kent, and Sea-Tac. Residents heading south are also not far from Tacoma and that central position between two major metros drives ample demand and convenience.

LOCATION OVERVIEW

Castlemonte Apartments

BURIEN

Burien's small-town character, waterfront setting, and everyday convenience make it one of South King County's most compelling markets for multifamily investment.

Burien's appeal to renters is rooted in its walkable downtown core, tree-lined residential streets, and a genuine sense of small-town community just minutes from Seattle. Burien Town Square anchors the city with a Saturday farmers market, restaurants, and green space, while nearby Seahurst Park offers over a mile of Puget Sound shoreline — amenities that consistently drive resident retention and demand. The city's location just north of Sea-Tac International Airport and along the SR-509 corridor gives residents fast access to major employment centers throughout the Puget Sound region, while rents remain meaningfully below Seattle proper, supporting a deep and durable renter base. This combination of lifestyle appeal, employment access, and relative affordability positions Burien as an attractive market for multifamily investment, with strong fundamentals for sustained occupancy and rent growth.
